

Environment, Health & Safety (EHS) Policy

Woodward is committed to the health & safety of our members, contractors, customers, suppliers, and community, and to the protection of the environment. Each of us has a personal responsibility to support this commitment.

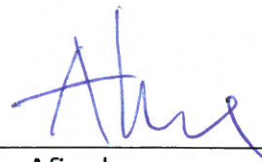

Our EHS framework is built upon commitment to the following foundational tenets:

- We assess the EHS hazards, aspects and impacts associated with our operations and identify methods to eliminate and/or control the associated risks.
- We provide a safe and healthy work environment for our members globally, as well as for external parties working at our facilities.
- We look for opportunities to reduce pollution and improve the environment as well as minimize the environmental impacts of our operations on a local, regional and global scale.
- We recognize that our members are our greatest assets, and we actively seek their input and engagement in our EHS programs.
- We comply with legal EHS requirements as well as voluntary agreements that are recognized as important to our communities and other stakeholders.
- We measure our EHS performance and hold our leadership accountable for setting objectives to drive continuous improvement in a never-ending True North journey.

This EHS Policy applies to all global operations under Woodward's control.

Thomas A. Gendron
Chairman of the Board, Chief Executive Officer, And President

Aromake Afiegbe
Director, Global Environmental Health &
Safety