

FTI Sparkplugs Designed by Woodward

Product Change

The FTI sparkplug has been an important product to Woodward in support of the large engine combustion and ignition market. FTI sparkplugs have been used in small scale to help customers improve their combustion process.

Over the last few years, the adaptation and use of FTI sparkplugs has been low, and based on this, our manufacturer has decided to stop producing these low QTY plugs.

Woodward has designed and supported these plugs for many years and is not able to offer any Last Time Buy opportunities. The support schedule below is valid for the listed FTI part numbers sold between 2013 and 2023.

Product Support Schedule
